PROPOSED GAME WELL RECEIVED

Coach Walker Will Wire St. Vincents Today to See If Team Will Play Aggies.

The proposition to bring the St. Vincent's team to Utah to meet the Aggies seems to meet with the approval of practically all of those who are most interested in the game in this state. Coach Walker was interviewed over the long distance phone last evening and said he would wire the St. Vincents today and see if they would be willing to play the Aggies. If he could get the consent of the Los Angeles team here, he would then take up the matter of expenses with some of the friends of the A. C. team in Logan and see what could be done.

Coach Joe Maddock of the University of Utah was yesterday asked if he believed the proposed game would be a good thing and that he wanted to help the Aggies in any way possible on the plan. President Young of the student body has decided to call a meeting of that body today at which time the matter of getting in line and helping the Aggies boost the game, in case it is played at Salt Lake, will be taken up.

If the game should be played in Logan there is no doubt but what an excursion could be arranged from Salt Lake, but it is believed that by playing the game in Salt Lake a much larger crowd could be secured. The question of securing the game is one of the most important ones when the great expense attached to bringing the team to Utah is considered.

HIGH SCHOOL CHAMPIONSHIP

Victory for All Hallows on Saturday Would Unset Dope for Title.

On next Saturday, if what the rival rosters of two football teams say is true, when the Ogden High and All Hallows meet, those present will see boys who are really in earnest and who are in the game for blood from start to finish. This game will be the fourth of the inter-high school championship series.

Ogden has won one game from the Salt Lake High school and one game from All Hallows, and will come to Zion City determined to put an abrupt end to any championship aspirations their opponents may have.

Salt Lake High school played a close game with Ogden, the score being 11 to 6, and on Saturday All Hallows surprised everyone by giving the Salt Lake team the hardest kind of a game and losing by the close score of 14 to 12. This should put the college in the running with the other teams in its class, and according to the dope, if the teams improves this week in the same way it has improved during the past ten days, it has an excellent chance to win from Ogden. If All Hallows loses Saturday it will be impossible for them to win or tie for the championship.

The Salt Lake High school is almost as much concerned about the game because the latter, by winning, can save the day for Salt Lake should the latter win its next game.

For this reason one of the most interesting high school games ever seen in this city is promised for next Saturday.

No False Modesty.

One of our big assets is our business reputation and when we make a statement regarding the homes we have for sale we tell everything we know about them. Absolute integrity never did any one any harm, and when we tell you that we have built over $100,000 worth of homes recently, and enough for anyone to live in, in the way they are built and the number of modern improvements they contain, we mean just what we say.

The proof of this lies in the fact that we are willing to make long term loans on these houses. We will sell them for cash, but prefer the time payments, because that system is mutually beneficial. It makes it easy for you if you have a few hundred dollars, to soon acquire your own home, for every payment you make, which might mean nothing but rent to your landlord under other conditions, applies on the purchase price, and after you have completed the payments you have a home of your own instead of a moving day. These new houses are on Ninth avenue. You can get the keys at 458 C street in order to inspect them. They are in a superb location, having every advantage for yourself and your children. Out of the drainage and out of the smoke, and not one of them you wouldn't be proud to call home.

MORE MONEY FOR PONIES

Track Owners Increase Purses on Eastern Race Courses.

New York, Nov. 12.—Announcement is made by the Coney Island Jockey club of substantial increases in added money in almost all the stake events decided at the Sheephead Bay track, starting with the raising of the guarantee value of the Suburban handicap, considered the most important event in the country, to $25,000. This increased liberality, it is stated, is an acknowledgment of the splendid success of the season that is now closing and bespeaks a willingness to share the profits that have been reaped with the owners of horses.

The announcement of the Coney Island Jockey club was accompanied by one of similar purport from the Gravesend management, stating that henceforth the guaranteed value of the Brooklyn handicap also will be $25,000.

TURF RESULTS.

At Oakland.

San Francisco, Nov. 12.—There were only four contestants in the Santa Rosa handicap, but the race was won in a spectacular finish between the two choices, Fireball, held at even money, today, at which time the matter of getting in line and helping the Aggies boost the game, in case it is played at Salt Lake, will be taken up.

If the game should be played in Logan there is no doubt but what an excursion could be arranged from Salt Lake, but it is believed that by playing the game in Salt Lake a much larger crowd could be secured. GEESSE HUNTERS RETURN

One of Them Brings Down Coyote, But They Fail to Kill Honkers.

A party of Salt Lake hunters visited Antelope island Sunday after geese and report the honkers to be plentiful on the island. In the party were Major Purvis, Lieut. Goodwyn of Fort Douglas, Tom White, M. L. Robinson, W. Fort and "Duke" Johnson, of Salt Lake. While the geese were plentiful, it cannot be said the party made a big killing. Reports at hand are that as a rule the size of the geese were such that the hunters did not overcome the "back fever" until the honkers were out of sight. A story is told on W. H. Morton, which "Duke" Johnson is responsible for, and which sounds well anyway. Morton became tired and lay down for a little sleep in a haystack. While dreaming of the large bag of game he would kill, a lone coyote happened along and with a curious nose into Morton's face to satisfy himself as to whether he was a real hunter or not. Morton, however, did not get up and the coyote galloped off a few steps and stopped to look at him. Morton loudly called upon his friends and asked them what he was doing. He finally got up courage and, grabbing his rifle, killed the coyote, and was voted the greatest hunter in the party.

There is some talk of having a buffalo hunt at Antelope island again next spring. The herd has increased considerably in the past couple of years and there is some talk of killing off five of the oldest bulls.

One missing chicken has ended the neighborly feeling between W. A. Hobbs and C. L. Wilson. Hobbs was arraigned in the police court yesterday on the charge of having stolen the chicken. Mrs. Hobbs, however, testified that her husband had come home from work about 3 o'clock on Saturday and had at once gone to bed. She declared that Hobbs was in bed at the time Wilson said the chicken was stolen.
